How to Become a PEACE Partner School

Who We Are

Saint Francis University is one of the oldest Catholic universities in the United States, and the oldest Franciscan institution of higher education in the country. Faith, generosity, respect, discovery, and joy are integral to our identity, and we seek to attract members to our community with a passion to share our Catholic-Franciscan values and a dedicated desire to help our students grow into compassionate, caring, and fulfilled professionals.

The institution is rich in history: the seeds of what has become Saint Francis University and our Franciscan identity were planted in 1847 by six Franciscan friars from Ireland who founded a boys' academy in Loretto. The guiding principles of these founders are the values we embrace at Saint Francis University to this day. The modern expression of these principles came to life in 1991 through the vision of Fr. Christian Oravec, T.O.R., then president of Saint Francis University, who penned the Goals of Franciscan Higher Education.
